

WHAT IS A DISASTER FIRST AID STATION (DFAS)?

A DFAS is a medical clinic in the Comox Valley that has agreed to provide first aid and basic medical care to the public in the event of a major disaster.

WHEN AND HOW ARE THEY ACTIVATED?

The medical clinic assumes the role as a DFAS upon request of the Comox Valley Emergency Program (CVEP) or if the need is very clear, such as after a severe earthquake.

HOW MANY DFAS CLINICS ARE THERE?

Currently there are 6 DFAS clinics (see list and map). These clinics were chosen based on their seismic resilience, geographic location, closeness to a pharmacy and ability to respond in a crisis. Other clinics may be added in the future.

SUPPORT & GUIDANCE

This initiative is supported by the College of Physicians and Surgeons of BC and Health Emergency Management BC. Its development has been guided by the principles identified in the Canadian Medical Association Code of Ethics, the College of Family Physicians of Canada recommendations and the Emergency Program Act of BC.

“Our plan centres on increasing patient treatment capacity and reducing the distance between residents and medical care. Based on strategic locations throughout our region, we are identifying clinics which can serve as Disaster First Aid Stations to provide triage and as treatment centres for ambulatory patients.”
